

Division of Emergency Medicine, McMaster University

Mission:

To foster world class research, education and leadership in Emergency Medicine with a strong focus on clinical applicability

Values:

- Excellence in clinical practice across the spectrum of Emergency Care in all settings via clinical, educational and research leadership
- Collaboration including interprofessional/interdisciplinary colleagues, and within the emergency medicine community-at-large both nationally and internationally
- Fostering development of colleagues at different stages of their careers through mentorship, peer support and formal training
- Developing and applying current evidence into both clinical practice as well as health policy and operations to optimize patient care

Vision:

To be recognized as a centre of excellence for Emergency Medicine Evidence-Based practice and as a leader in clinical innovation, EM Education and Research

Core Strategic Directions

- Improve patient care through excellence in emergency medicine education and research
- Build and strengthen unified McMaster Emergency Medicine presence at local, national, and international levels
- Engage in meaningful Emergency Medicine Research and Innovation
- Train and Foster EM leaders in clinical, educational and research oriented areas