Access to Gender Affirming Care Within the Children’s Hospital – Where are we and where would we like to go?

This presentation will review important aspects of the care of transgender children and youth, list benefits of access to gender affirming care and describe a new clinical initiative with McMaster Children’s Hospital.

DR. NATASHA JOHNSON is a pediatrician and Adolescent Medicine Specialist. For the past 11 years she has been a member of the Department of Pediatrics at McMaster University where she is now an Associate Professor and Division Head of Adolescent Medicine as well as the medical co-director of their Eating Disorder Program. Dr. Johnson has developed a clinical, educational, and research focus in the area of adolescent sexual health – in particular in marginalized youth and vulnerable populations.

ANICK LAMARCHE is a franco-Ontarian who has amused herself collecting degrees namely in music performance, pedagogy and a PhD in voice acoustics to finally focus on Speech Language Pathology. Throughout all her adventures, the human voice has been at the center of her interests. She has devoted the past 5 years to the paediatric and adult voice clinic here at HHS and is enthused to finally deliver services to our transgender community.
