

Practice Based Small Group-Education for Clinical Teachers/Preceptors (2018-19)

---

These workshops will introduce busy clinical preceptors to the “PBSG-ED modules” - useful teaching tools that can be used by small groups of teachers at times and settings of their convenience. Each module provides continuing education that makes judicious use of the most recent and best educational evidence available. Modules include: real life teacher-learner cases, stimulus questions, evidence-based information points keyed to case commentary, teaching tools, resources and references. Useful for a variety of healthcare practitioners.

Topics & Session details: individuals may select to attend 1 or more sessions

for more info. re: PBSG-ED
www.fhs.mcmaster.ca/facdev/pbsg-ed.html

Conflict Management: Strategies for Preceptors

Monday, Dec. 3, 2018      8:30 a.m. - 10:30 a.m.    2 hrs. - BEST

Location: McMaster University, David Braley Health Sciences Centre (downtown Hamilton) - refreshments provided

This workshop provides clinical teachers with:

- a definition of conflict management, and counselling advice on handling dysfunctional conflict for a mutually optimal outcome
- an understanding of the factors contributing to conflict and the resulting negative impact on the well being of learners and teachers, as well as the learning environment and patient care
- practical strategies for managing conflictual situations that might arise in clinical teaching settings between:
  - a) learners and their teachers
  - b) learners and patients and/or the patient's families
  - c) learners and other healthcare professionals/learners

Developing Professionalism in Our Learners: Critical Conversations

Tuesday, March 26, 2019      2:30 pm - 4:30 pm    2 hrs. - BEST

Location: McMaster University, David Braley Health Sciences Centre (downtown Hamilton) - refreshments provided

This workshop assists preceptors in understanding the contextual nature of professional behaviour and the pivotal role of clinical teachers in the development of professionalism among their learners; providing educationally appropriate opportunities for learning the principles of professionalism within clinical settings and developing effective strategies for dealing with unprofessional behaviours of learners during a clinical placement.

---

To participate, please either register ONLINE www.fhs.mcmaster.ca/facdev/online\_registration.html, or complete the information on the next page and send to: dicroce@mcmaster.ca or via Fax: (905) 528-6552 or mail to: Elda DiCroce, Prog. for Faculty Development., McMaster University, DBHSC - 5004, 1280 Main St. W., am., ON L8S 4K1

Registration Form: PBSG-ED for Clinical Teachers (2018-2019)

Please indicate session(s) you are registering for:

Conflict Management: Strategies for Preceptors (Mon., Dec. 3, 2018)
Developing Professionalism in Our Learners: Critical Conversations (Tues., March 26, 2019)

Please indicate category and method of payment (where required):

NOTE: only registrations with complete payment (where applicable) will be confirmed

Partnered McMaster Dept.: (No Charge) - (please indicate below)

FAM MED    MED    OB/GYN    ONCOLOGY    PEDS    PSYCH    SURG

SCHOOL OF NRSG    SCHOOL OF REHAB SCIENCE    ANESTHESIA    (pls check with your dept.)

Non-Partnered McMaster/Affiliated Sites - Faculty/Staff    $ 60.00
(teaching McMaster students)

Non-Partnered McMaster/Affiliated Sites – Residents    No Charge
(teaching McMaster students)

External (non-McMaster/not teaching $ 100.00
McMaster students)

Paying by University Dept. Chartfield #:

Paying by cheque: Please make payable to: McMaster University

Surname:

Firstname:

Profession:

Department:

Address:

City:

Postal Code:

Tel:

Fax:

Email: